

	Air Liquide Large Industries Policy on Health, Safety, Environmental, and Security	July 24, 2008
---	---	--------------------------

Air Liquide Large Industries is committed to continuous improvement in environmental, health, safety, and security as it moves toward achieving excellence in each of these areas. Our goal is zero accidents in safety and zero incidents of environmental non-compliance.

The Large Industries Management Team:

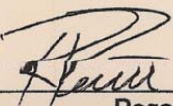

- Accepts its responsibility for providing a safe work place and for protecting the health, safety and security of employees, visitors and the communities in which we operate and live.
- Is committed to maintaining compliance with applicable regulatory requirements.
- Pledges to operate according to the American Chemistry Council's guiding principles of Responsible Care ®.

No job that we do is so important that we will knowingly put the health, safety or security of our employees, contractors, visitors, or the environment at risk.

Employees are expected to:

- Share this commitment to environmental, health, safety, and security excellence.
- Utilize the Three Steps to Safety in everything they do to assure that they recognize potential hazards, take appropriate steps to control or eliminate those hazards, and are ready for the unexpected.
- Stop any job that they think puts themselves, coworkers or the environment at risk and report any non-compliance issue to their manager or the LI HSE Department.
- Fulfill their obligation to Responsible Care ® by complying with Air Liquide's environmental, health, safety and security policies

In the event that the unexpected does happen, we will conduct a thorough analysis to make sure that the root causes are identified and that appropriate steps are taken to prevent a recurrence. This will include taking systematic actions to address engineering, organizational, as well as human factors. We will focus on both long term and immediate success. We realize that when it comes to environmental, health, safety, and security, one momentary lapse can erase a long history of past success. We will not rest in our commitment to our employees, our neighbors, or the environment.
